From The Chair:

Have you ever been to a small island at the north end of Friday Bay in the Boundary Waters Canoe Area Wilderness? This island is covered with blueberries in early summer. For this reason, several of us refer to this island as "Blueberry Island." Last fall, four of us spent our day off there on a seven-day non-club trip (I admit it). That morning, a golden mist hung over the narrow channel between the island and the mainland. We slept in and enjoyed a leisurely breakfast. The sky was a perfect blue, the air temperature around 70 degrees and the water much cooler. It was a perfect day. Michael and I spent it skinny-dipping, exploring neighboring "Question Mark Island," and looking for a building that turned out to be the ruins of a structure surrounding a very large, rusting tank and a coffee can from the 1940s. That evening, I found myself feeling well-fed and content in front of the campfire. Michael had been gone long enough for me to wonder where he was. He suddenly stepped into the firelight, quivering with anticipation. He told me that he had discovered something very exciting that he wanted to show me. I felt intrigued and eager. He led me off through the woods toward the north side of the island, then westward along the shore. The stars were out and the water sparkled before me. Behind me, the forest was dark. The green glow of the northern lights moved in the sky in the northeast. I soon found myself standing above a large flat rock at the water's edge. Candles were lit around the perimeter of the rock. Under the green of the northern lights, with the water on one side and forest on the other and the candles flickering about us, Michael helped me down onto the rock, and proposed. As you can see by my new byline, I said yes.

buds popping out on the trees and mother natures little fur balls and feathered friends all busily scurrying around preparing for the summer season to come (the author's favorites being fuzzy little goslings following mom and dad around) were like a delicious icing atop an already good cake. We all went home with our eyes full, our hearts happy and our bodies darn tired and worn out. Much thanks to God for another great PSC paddle day. Lou & Tyler Igyarto

May 1-2, Middle Fork of Vermillion, IL

We enjoyed a beautiful weekend on the Middlefork this year! In spite of low water and a cool damp dry Saturday, everyone seemed to enjoy the riffles, the spring flowers and some wildlife as we paddled from Higginsville Bridge to Kickapoo State Park. Indian paintbrush was more abundant than ever. Clark Bullard gave us a grand tour of the hillside prairie and the Indian ceremonial and burial grounds. The knowledge he has of this area, and shares with us, is always interesting and fascinating and grows each year. The forecast for Sunday did not sound good but turned out to be a lovely day. We paddled from Kickapoo State Park to the Danville City Park and along the way toured the interpretive site of a coal mine. We witnessed the activities of heron rookery high in the Sycamores on the riverbank. Further down a waterfall became a backdrop for photographers and gathering bricks for garden back home became another fascination. (You have to paddle this stretch of the river to understand the allure of bricks) The old Railroad Bridge built in 1905, with its walkway under the arches was an interesting site for many that had never been on this stretch of the river.

There was much camaraderie among our paddlers as there is on most PSC trips. Lunch on a sandbar yielded many shared goodies. We wish to thank Rick Fleming for the car shuttle each day. Larry & Evelyn Tennyson

May 8, Bark River, WI

Those of us that decided to take a chance that the weather forecast was wrong were rewarded by a having a relaxing paddle. The day started cold and wet (42 degrees) and we had to change the put-in due to the DNR closing the one we were going to use. By the time the car shift was done, the rain had stopped. The Bark River has a different look to it north of Route 18. The water is clear and we saw a lot of mussels and fish as we paddled along. As the day went on the sun came out and it warmed up to about 70 degrees. John & Marilyn Ziegler

Trip Reports

Feb 29, North Branch Chicago River

Commonly known as the soup trip, because of the huge pot of soup at lunch stop, was done in some beautiful weather for this time of year. Sunny and in the low 60's with a very light breeze made for a very comfortable paddle. Thanks to our car-shifters and return driver. We had a back-up stove at lunch- which saved the day! Probably had eight to nine different types of soup in the pot. Great day and good company. Jerry Emerson

Apr 17-18 Tippecanoe River, IN

We had six paddlers on Saturday and nine on Sunday. The weather was unreal for April, sunny, 80-85 both days. Four boats on Saturday and five Sunday made for a fine and easy paddle. Our lunch stop on Saturday was at the launch sit in the park and that the end of the trip on Sunday. As usual for this time of the year the geese were very active on and off their nests. A great horned owl was sighted on Saturday as well as a dear cow in the river. Many thanks to our fine car shifters and driver returns. Two great fires on both evenings. Only one minor deadfall encountered. Gerald Emerson

March 28, West Branch DuPage River

St.Charles Rd. to Mack Road Landing

The warm weather and low water caught some of us napping — and wading. But we enjoyed the outing on this winding stream, taking out at Mack Road before the weather changed to rain. Thanks to Dan for car shift, and to Tom Lindblade for his work with the saw. Also, we would like to nominate Tracy Hunt for the PSC "Good Sportsmanship" award for his role as Best Supporting Paddler. Ray Ziemer

April 17, 2004 DuPage River

Shorewood to Channahon

In many ways it was a typical PSC trip on a local stream, as old friends and new paddled and scraped along the main stem of the river. The weather was nice, and quiet time on the water appreciated especially as road work increases, urban sprawl changes the character of small towns like Channahon, and development encroaches more and more on the river. Thanks to Eric Meyers for car shift and "inspirational" music. Ray Ziemer

April 25, Nippersink Creek & Chain of Lakes

Our day began at the Nippersink Canoe Base with a dead calm in a pea soup fog. But the fog quickly yielded to blustery "welcome back springtime" winds, which used the day to walk around the compass from the N/W on down to the S/W. The change brought with it the much cherished warm spring air, but, on a trip which combined river & lake paddling with multiple options as to which course we would follow, the changing directions of the wind made it difficult to pick the route that would allow us the pleasure of paddling with the wind instead of against it. Thanks to Jim Lickberg's G.P.S. device we now know that we paddled approximately 2 miles on the Nippersink Creek and about 4.7 miles through Pistakee, Nippersink, Dunns & Fox Lakes. We took advantage of the lee sides of islands and high-banked shorelines as much as possible and earned our daily ration of rum by performing a wind ferry to cross Nippersink Lake with a 50 M.P.H. headwind and two foot standing waves. The only other humans out on the lakes were fishermen in bass boats, which made for a predominately smooth and quiet day. The

Announcements

Christina,

I don't remember if I officially said THANK YOU to PSC for the wonderful donation of $300 to help feed the hungry paddlers lunch again! Your club and leadership is absolutely wonderful, and we couldn't do it without you.

THANK YOU and the board again.

Look forward to paddling with you some day.

Announcements (con't)

I just checked the web site of PSC, and it looks like the club has a wide assortment of trips planned for this year. Our club doesn't always plan quite so far in advance, and so far we have about 50 outings scheduled for the first few months of the season. Our club website is www.ccpac.org

Last year we had 101 trips over the course of the year, and I anticipate that the number will be similar in 2004. More trips get added all the time, and our newsletters are usually out by the first of each month. I am writing to invite any members of PSC to join our club trips, but they must be ACA members, and contact the trip host in advance. We have a club policy that says that trips are open to CCPAC members only, and their guests. But many of the leaders are perfectly willing to accept out-of-town ACA people as guests on their trips. Also, if any of your leaders would like to join forces with our group, have them contact me.

Spread the word, my fellow Guerilla Paddler's book is now available!

The most comprehensive guide to paddling in Northern Illinois ever written has finally been published. Bob Tyler's Book "Paddling Adventures in Northern Illinois: Apple River to Zuma Creek" is now available from iuniverse.com, Amazon.com, and soon from the Chicagoland Canoe Base at $15.95

Bob a long time member of both Prairie State Canoeists and The Chicago Whitewater Association has attempted to paddle just about anything that will float a boat. The book details over eighty paddles. Some probably should never be paddled again! Many are among our favorites. You can now find out if that creek you drive over every day can be paddled. If it can, Bob probably has it in his book. What are the access problems, where are the little known whitewater runs, what trips are family friendly, where can you paddle when there isn't any water? All these questions are answered in the book, and all information is indexed to the DeLorme Atlas.

In addition to incredible amounts of paddling information, the book also reflects Bob's interest in local history with a wealth of river related historical information.

This book should be on your shelf, Right next to Mike Svob's Paddling Illinois. Enjoy!

Regards, Tom Lindblade

Jul 3-16, Sat-Fri Montana Rivers—Easy Whitewater

Skill Level: Intermediate Whitewater or bring a raft

Rick Fleming 847-253-9383
rick24fleming@attbi.com

If you want to really see Montana and don't have the whitewater skills you can buy an inflatable kayak or raft and make this trip. We will be doing mostly relatively easy whitewater rivers, mostly ones that I have done before. However, we might insert a few difficult rivers or sections, especially if water levels are high. In that case, some paddlers might want to take a hiking day. And we will plan hiking days into the trip. In fact, I plan on hiking Saturday and Sunday, July 3rd and 4th. I've put the trip beginning date flexible to allow for vacation timing. Water levels are best at this time of year - not too high, levels usually going down - and down fast so that in two more weeks levels might be too low. Please call or write to express any interest at all. I'll send more information to all who have some interest but at a latter date.

This is the first of the two full moons for this month. (Hence "once in a full moon"). We will start at Sheridan this time, dine at the Rt. 52 Bridge, and continue to Ayers Landing. Last year Mother Nature gave us a grand night of paddling, hopefully she will do the same this time. The put-in is at scooters Bar on Robenson Rd. just north of downtown Sheridan. There are some fees at the put-in & Take-out, so bring some singles. Car shift at 5:30 P. M.

At the first stop light turn right and proceed to the first intersection (stop sign). Turn left. Cross the bridge to the first street on the right. Turn right into Bauman Park. The boat launch is located on the first road on the right after the playground. Car Shift will be at 9:30. PFD'S required; dump clothes always recommended and bring your lunch. This trip is rated advanced beginner because there will definitely be some maneuvering through certain sections and depending on water level.

We'll be starting at 10 a.m. (registration starts at 9:30). This official event of the Chicago Area Orienteering Club will include a beginner's clinic that runs continuously until noon. We can show you how to use a map and compass to navigate to specific locations along a route. You may paddle competitively or recreationally. Expected completion time for the route will be about 90 minutes per course. After the event, we'll need folks to help retrieve controls, so we would appreciate anyone who could hang out for a while. More information is available at the club web site and at <http://www.chicago-orienteeing.org/> Michael & Christina Collins

This is a surpassingly beautiful river in lower Michigan not yet (and maybe never) in the Wild and Scenic River program (between the Pere Marquette and Pine Rivers off highway MI 37); crystal clear water, more wildlife than people. The first day is a beginner trip; the second day is an intermediate trip because of fast water (no rapids) and tight bends. Paddlers will need ability to back paddle, ferry, draw, pry and eddy to do the second day. We will camp at Pine River Paddlesports Center on the left (west) side of highway 37 just before you cross the Pine River going north.
